

ETHICS POLICY

Policy Statement

The Ethics Policy is the policy for both WSFS Financial Corporation and Wilmington Savings Funds Society, FSB. Values describe how an organization behaves under all circumstances. WSFS believes there are four fundamental values that describe our behavior, they are, “at WSFS, we”:

- ◆ Do the right thing
- ◆ Serve others
- ◆ Are open and candid
- ◆ Grow and improve

It is important that all Associates recognize that the first value, do the right thing, is the most fundamental in terms of defining the expectations we have of ourselves.

WSFS believes that the highest ethical principles must be used to guide us as we pursue a fair profit in the marketplace. The purpose of this Ethics Policy is to provide some specific guidance to all Associates of WSFS with respect to appropriate ethical conduct. However, it cannot cover every possible situation. As a result, this policy can best be summarized by the simple statement that at all times Associates are expected to continually strive to “do the right thing” even when no one is watching and regardless of adversity or prosperity to WSFS.

Since there are potentially many standards for determining what “do the right thing” means, it is important that we provide a standard so that Associates will have a frame of reference. We believe having an overarching guide for behavior is important, because it fills the gaps where our legal system and even the policies enumerated below may not provide enough clear guidance. In our inclusive, yet diverse nation, the values-based principles inherited from our founding fathers have guided actions for well over 200 years. They have served our society very well during that time. It is in that context that we desire to affirm these inherited traditions and principles as guides for our behavior when laws and policies simply may not be sufficient. Importantly, in the tradition of the U.S. Constitution and principles of fairness, we do not endorse any particular religious belief, but rather respect and value all people, regardless of their religious beliefs.

WSFS will continue to grow and operate and pursue a fair profit guided by these simple principles and values. WSFS is a growing, moving, involved member of the community whose true worth is the sum total of our Associates and Directors actions and deeds. With these principles and values as our guide, our Associates and Directors are responsible to abide by a code of conduct that clearly demonstrates that our values are not simply hollow words on a piece of paper but values we continue to live by.

WSFS is committed to a working environment free from demeaning or harassing behavior. We will thoroughly investigate all reported incidents of harassment and will not tolerate any form of retaliation against anyone who, in good faith, reports an incident or participates as a witness in an investigation. All issues will be taken seriously and investigated, and we will take appropriate actions. Retaliation against anyone who raises a good-faith concern or reports misconduct will not be tolerated.

- Conflict of Interest – You are expected to avoid all situations that might lead to a real or apparent conflict between your self-interest and your duty as a WSFS Associate. This means you are not to use your position or knowledge for personal gain or benefit or in any manner that could reflect unfavorably on WSFS. Associates will not divert Corporate opportunities to their own benefit or to others.
- Outside Business or Employment - Associates must first obtain permission before getting involved with an outside business interest including employment, or acting as an officer, consultant, advisor or director of a business entity or customer.

Members of the family are defined as spouse, children, parents, aunts, uncles, dependents, or any other person living in the same household. All fiduciary activities undertaken by Associates must be in accordance with the best interests of the customer and the requirements of the law. All fiduciary activities must be executed in a fair and equitable manner, with impartiality in the allocation of information, expertise and the timing of investment executions. In executing its fiduciary responsibilities, WSFS will give no preferential treatment to a particular customer based on the size or type of customer relationship with WSFS.
